

About Bellavia Blatt

Bellavia Blatt Andron & Crossett, P.C., is a nationally-recognized authority in franchise and business law. The firm was founded in 1987 and provides legal counsel and services to small businesses throughout New York State. Bellavia Blatt has represented franchised businesses and local and national trade associations in matters involving franchise and general business law, and its clients include fast food franchisees, automobile dealers, marine, and power sport dealers. We have extensive experience litigating mass action lawsuits against larger adversaries, and we are the firm of choice for franchisees who have disputes with their franchisors.

Leonard A. Bellavia

Founder and senior partner Leonard A. Bellavia understands the issues and challenges small businesses face. His family owned one of the largest automobile dealer groups in the New York area, and his years of experience working in a variety of roles at the business gave him a unique perspective on how small and medium-sized businesses work, a perspective many in the legal profession lack. Mr. Bellavia has pursued some of the largest mass action law suits for hundreds of small businesses against Fortune 500 companies. With his leadership, Bellavia Blatt has amassed an impressive record of obtaining good results against major franchisors, vendors and government regulators.

Steven H. Blatt

Partner Steven H. Blatt has played an integral role in Bellavia Blatt's growth and success. Mr. Blatt has extensive experience in a multitude of practice areas, including complex commercial litigation, employment and labor law, franchise litigation, loan workouts, and lender liability. In addition, Mr.

Blatt amassed considerable experience advising companies on employment-related issues, including wrongful discharges, pension rights, compensation, and wage hour disputes. He is an invaluable resource representing businesses in complaints filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, New York State Division of Human Rights, the New York State Department of Labor, the United States Department of Labor, and National Labor Relations Board.

Introducing the BB300 Program

Bellavia Blatt Understands the Challenges That Small Businesses Face

We want you to focus on your day-to-day business without being bogged down with legal matters. We have developed the BB300 Business Legal Representation Program to provide small businesses like yours a unique opportunity to gain immediate access to experienced legal counsel at a low fixed monthly fee.

For only $300 a month, Bellavia Blatt will provide your business with the same “in-house” legal counsel that large businesses have. BB300 is a cost-effective solution that gives your business access to expert legal advice on a host of issues. It’s like having your own in-house attorney.

Participants in the BB300 Program Receive:

- Unlimited telephone consultations about general business operations (e.g., credit issues, employment and labor practices, franchise issues, privacy rules, advertising compliance, review of vendor contracts, best practices review and consumer complaints)
- Preparation of letters and general releases in response to customer complaints
- Assistance responding to state and federal regulatory agency inquiries
- Regular updates regarding best practices and regulatory compliance
- A substantially reduced hourly fee for matters not covered

BB300 allows you to have peace of mind as you operate your business each day. We want you to concentrate on what’s important: your business.

At Bellavia Blatt, we have devoted our practice to providing franchisees and business owners with the legal guidance and expertise they need to grow successful commercial enterprises.
